ABOUT US

A professional association for transmission specialists in Australia and New Zealand.

Called the ATRA-Australasian Chapter, it's a joint venture between the North American Automatic Transmission Rebuilders Association (ATRA) and the Victorian Automotive Chamber of Commerce (VACC).

This collaboration combines ATRA's global network and expertise with VACC's local credibility and governance.

The association aims to provide valuable benefits and resources to transmission industry stakeholders in the Australasian region, mirroring ATRA's successful model in North America.

Trusted by over 2,000 members in the US and Internationally you can now be part of this great organisation.
